The MHC is a voluntary program designed to serve defendants who are struggling with mental illness and are currently involved in the criminal justice system of McHenry County. In lieu of traditional punishment, the MHC diverts defendants with diagnosed mental illness away from the criminal justice system by offering alternatives including; intensive judicial oversight, community supervision and treatment. The goals of the MHC are to reduce recidivism and promote self-sufficiency by offering community based treatment alternatives to incarceration.

The MHC would not be possible without the McHenry County Board, Twenty Second Judicial Circuit Office of Court Administration, McHenry County Court and Probation Services, McHenry County Mental Health Board, McHenry County Department of Health, McHenry County State's Attorney's Office, McHenry County Public Defender's Office, McHenry County Sheriff's Office and various community based mental health service providers.
